What Lenders Are Actually Looking For

Five key evaluation factors

1. Average Daily Balance

Higher average balances suggest financial stability. They want to see balances that would cover your proposed monthly loan payment multiple times over.

2. Cash Flow Consistency

Consistent, regular deposits from customers suggest reliable revenue. Predictable deposit patterns that match your business model.

3. Expense Management

Large, unusual withdrawals or consistent overspending can signal poor financial management. Categorize your major expenses.

4. Balance Trends

Growing balances suggest a healthy, profitable business. Calculate your month-over-month balance change to highlight growth.

12-Month Statement Summary

Track key metrics for each month

MONTH	BEGINNING BALANCE	ENDING BALANCE	TOTAL DEPOSITS	# OF DEPOSITS	TOTAL WITHDRAWALS
Jan	$	$	$		$
Feb	$	$	$		$
Mar	$	$	$		$
Apr	$	$	$		$
May	$	$	$		$
Jun	$	$	$		$

12-Month Statement Summary (Continued)

Complete the full year tracking

Month	Beginning Balance	Ending Balance	Total Deposits	# of Deposits	Total Withdrawals
Jul	$	$	$		$
Aug	$	$	$		$
Sep	$	$	$		$
Oct	$	$	$		$
Nov	$	$	$		$
Dec	$	$	$		$

Average Balance Calculation

Formula: (Beginning + Ending) ÷ 2 for each month

12-Month Average Balance Calculation:

Sum of all monthly averages ÷ 12 = _____

Example:

If average monthly balance is $17,833 and proposed loan payment is $1,200/month, your balance covers the payment nearly 15 times. This demonstrates strong repayment capacity.

Deposit Pattern Analysis

Document where your deposits come from

Deposit Source	Monthly Amount	% of Total	Pattern
Customer A (recurring contract)	$	%	Monthly
Customer B (invoices)	$	%	Bi-weekly
E-commerce sales	$	%	Weekly
Retail sales	$	%	Daily

Key Insight

If one customer represents more than 30% of your deposits, note this concentration risk. Lenders worry about over-reliance on single customers.
